Paper No:20080602

Application No:10/553391

Filing Date: October 17,2005

1. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed. It should be brief but technically accurate and descriptive, preferably from two to seven words. See 37 CFR 1.72(a).
2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.
3. Claims 1,7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Rintala et al
(PCT/FI03/00307).

Rintala et al teaches in figures 1-4, an elevator registration display 1. Call input devices 2,2' provide registration data to control system 7,7'. Based on the data, a group call data unit 8,8b allocates the cars 3 and provides the data to display 1,11. As illustrated, the display of registered cars can be presented in several formats to the passengers. Several matrix type displays are provided.

Art Unit: 2837

4. Claims 2-6 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The limitations of the de-registration (cancel) feature and recalculation of the display to the passenger or the use of the touch panel sensor placed in front of the display to cancel a request, is not taught or reasonably suggested by the cited art or record.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Mandel et al., Chida et al., Forsythe et al, Kakko et al and Fukumizu are cited to illustrate similar elevator registration displays.

A shortened statutory period for response to this action is set to expire 3 months from the date of this letter.

Failure to respond within the period for response will cause the application to become abandoned. 35 U.S.C. 133
